Republican Controlled Constitutional Convention Sure to Oppose

Albany, N. Y., May 23 (AP).—A second Democratic plan for reapportioning legislative districts strengthened today predictions of partisan strife over the Republican-controlled constitutional convention's most controversial problem.

Democratic Delegate Lithgow Osborne, state conservation commissioner, said he would submit, when delegates convene for the eighth week tonight, a proposed amendment calling for redistricting the legislature in 1939 and each 12th year thereafter. The gubernatorial veto in the preceding election would be the basis for determining representation.

Strong opposition from upstate Republicans appeared virtually certain, as some observers saw a threat to Republican Assembly domination, in view of possibilities reflected by application of Osborne's plan to the 1936 vote for governor. On that basis, it would add 19 Assemblymen to the present 150 and two Senate districts to the current 51.

Democrats to Gain.
The 19 additional Assemblymen, the sponsor's own tabulation shows, would go to the usually Democratic five counties of Greater New York, while the same area would gain one and a half Senate districts against upstate's one-half district.

Applied to the 1936 vote outside greater New York, the plan would effect a shift of nine assemblymen with Broome, Chautauque, Dutchess, Niagara, Oneida, Orange, St. Lawrence, Schoharie and Steuben counties each losing one. Oneida would gain one; Erie, two; Monroe, one; Nassau, three and Westchester, two.

Republicans, depending for their strength on upstate counties, controlled the 1938 legislature, 84 to 61 Democrats and five American-Laborites, and the 1937 session, 76 to 74. Democrats control the Senate 22 to 22.

Osborne's proposal was one of a score or more slated for introduction tonight as the convention nears its deadline, Wednesday, for introduction of amendments.

Meaningful leaders, determined on a final adjournment by July 23, pondered the request of some delegates that an extra week be granted in which to submit proposals. Floor debate would then be delayed until about June 6.

Other Measures
Among those scheduled for introduction tonight is a 10-point program offered by Edward F. Corsi, chairman of the convention's committee on social welfare, which rewrites various portions of the present constitution to broaden the legislature's power over public health and social services.

The legislature, Corsi said, would be empowered to pass on all rules and regulations adopted by agencies governing such services in counties, towns and villages.

Another item of the program would impose on the state an obligation to provide food, clothing, medical care, books "and other requisites" for physically or mentally handicapped children of parents unable to provide them.

The Osborne reapportionment plan will be considered along with the proposal of Democratic Delegate Joseph J. Dunn, Jr., Brooklyn, which would increase the number of assemblymen from 150 to 175, senators from 51 to 62 and congressional districts from 43 to 45.

Republicans have submitted no reapportionment amendment but are privately studying several plans, with a reported view to more representation for New York without jeopardizing party control of the Assembly.

New York Central Claims Heard and $68,300 Is Awarded

Condemnation Commissioners Uphold Railroad Contentions for Alleged Water Damages to Property

In the report filed Friday by Condemnation Commissioners William W. Hoppia, John F. Wadlin and Howard Beecher, appointed to hear claims arising out of the damage to property bordering the Esopus creek through the injection of Gilboa reservoir waters into the Esopus creek, awards were made in only 14 cases for a total of $68,300. In addition to the amount of the awards there is also an item of interest for two years and also costs. The addition of these items will bring the total amount up to approximately $80,000.

William C. Chabier, corporate counsel for the city of New York, appeared by Henry R. Bright, John E. Egan and Vincent G. Connelly and the New York Central Railroad was represented throughout the proceedings by Harry H. Flemming of this city.

The claims of the New York Central Railroad were heard throughout the entire proceeding, the city contending that the railroad had no riparian rights and also that the method of procedure in proving damage claims was in error. The railroad claimed that the railroad property, much of which abuts upon the Esopus creek, was being damaged by reason of the introduction of the Shandaken tunnel water into the creek. It was contended that since the tunnel was opened the city of New York kept the banks of the creek saturated by this excess water and kept the stream banks in a constantly soft condition. This saturation of the creek bank along the railroad property it was claimed kept the embankments so soft that in times of flood the banks would wash out. Under normal conditions the railroad contended the banks of the creek had an opportunity to dry out during the summer months and harden and also that protective growth formed which was an added protection when floods came. Since the city kept the banks constantly saturated by maintaining a high level throughout the season, it was claimed the normal protection was lost. In order to protect its property the railroad claimed rip-rap work would have to be placed to protect the railroad embankments. It was testified that rip-rap has been placed and that more will have to be erected. In the past four years it was testified that over 400 car-loads had been placed at various sections on the line.

The railroad claimed that in addition to the 14 claims heard before the commission and in which awards were made, there were also 18 more parcels. Damages were sought for these parcels but the commission ruled that since these parcels were not enumerated in the petition or not heard by the commission, objection to hearing these claims was made by the City of New York and the objection was sustained by the commission. Accordingly testimony was admitted only in relation to the 14 claims enumerated in the petition and designated on the maps.

In its report the commission states that the claim of the railroad is unique in many respects and much thought was devoted to the case. Damages are limited under the petition to a period between February 1, 1932, and March 13, 1936, when the city acquired its right in perpetuity. This period is the period in which the property was owned by the New York Central Railroad, successors to the Ulster & Delaware Railroad.

Insurgents Quell Loyalists
Hendaye, France (AP).—Two thousand captured government militiamen killed several of their guards in the insurgent prison at Pamplona last night and, seizing arms, battled troops in a futile effort to escape.

The insurgent command at Irun said the uprising was quelled only after an undetermined number of prisoners were killed and wounded.

A government offensive on the long-quiet Catalan front was reported to have driven a wedge between key insurgent positions between Tremp and Balaguer.

The insurgents, however, disputed government reports and asserted that all attacks had been fought off.

Dispatches from Barcelona said the highway linking insurgent advance positions at Balaguer and Tremp, important hydro-electric power center, had been cut by the government's surprise attack.

On the battlefield between Teruel and the Mediterranean, where the insurgents are engaged in a major drive against the port cities of Castellon and Valencia, they reportedly continued their advance through the strong government lines, despite continued bad weather.

Insurgent planes dropped tons of bombs on government defense positions.

Officers Wait To Guard Mexican President

These officers of the Mexican army turned out to greet and guard President Lazaro Cardenas on his arrival at San Luis Potosi to investigate reports that a rebellion under General Saturnino Cedillo had broken out. Heading the group were Gen. Genovevo Rivas Guillen (right center with mustache, and hands behind back), chief of the San Luis zone, and Gen. Manuel F. Enriquez (left center, hands in pockets).

Pennsylvania Women Seek To Heal Breach

Harrisburg, Pa., May 23 (AP).—Democratic women of Pennsylvania today assumed the role of peacemakers in an effort to heal the bitter rift in the party caused by the two-fisted primary campaign.

Peace moves shifted from Harrisburg and Washington to Pittsburgh with an invitation to divided party leaders to sit down together Tuesday night at a banquet given by the Pennsylvania Federation of Democratic Women.

Invited were U. S. Senator Joseph F. Guffy, and Governor George H. Earle, Charles Alvin Jones and other candidates on the winning ticket Guffy opposed at the polls last Tuesday.

Guffy has remained silent on his attitude for a united front for the fall campaign since Earle won the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator and Jones, Pittsburgh attorney, gained the gubernatorial nomination over Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy, who was backed by Guffy and CIO Chief John L. Lewis.

Oregon Primary Leaves Rifts in the Democratic Ranks

Washington, May 23 (AP).—It officials at Democratic headquarters keep a little list of places where they may have to help restore post-primary harmony, the chances are that the word Oregon has been written just beneath Pennsylvania.

The narrow victory of Henry Hess over Gov. Charles Martin of Oregon, who sought Democratic renomination, has interested party workers here because of Republican assertion that their candidate would gain some support from the Martin faction.

National Chairman James A. Farley has given no public indication so far that he might take a hand in trying to reunite the Oregon Democrats before the fall campaign begins.

It would not surprise many political students in the capital, however, if prominent members of the Hess and Martin groups should confer soon—separately, of course—with administration officials.

Only three days after the Pennsylvania primary, it was noted, John L. Lewis, the CIO leader, was a White House (Continued on Page Nine)

Mexican Aviators Mrs. Higginson, 85, Bombard Cedillo Dies in Cold Spring, Rebel Air Base Arlington Burial

Raid in Retaliation for Attack Made Sunday on Cardenas' Field Headquarters at Villa Hermosa

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, May 23 (AP).—Army fliers said today they had bombed ex-General Saturnino Cedillo's rebel air base, destroying two camouflaged planes. The raid was in retaliation for an attack made yesterday by a fast white plane on the field headquarters of President Lazaro Cardenas at Villa Hermosa, three miles from the city of San Luis Potosi.

Four bombs dropped by the white plane exploded in an air field near the residence from which President Cardenas is directing military forces trying to crush the Cedillo insurrection.

The army fliers said they found Cedillo's hidden air base near a place called Santo Domingo, a point not shown on maps, but which is believed to be in the rugged Huasteca region.

Meanwhile, a rebel plane was reported to have bombed the village of Buenavista, near Ciudad Matz, spreading terror among the inhabitants. It could not be learned immediately whether there were any casualties from the two bombs.

Uprising Confined
The government defense ministry asserted the uprising was confined to the state of San Luis Potosi, but strong hints were given that President Cardenas is keeping a watchful eye on at least three other states.

Dispatches from Guadalajara said mountainous Jalisco, traditional haunt of rebel factions, had been visited by government planes which dropped pro-Cardenas propaganda leaflets.

A press report said General Anacleto Guerrero, governor of Nuevo Leon, travelled to San Luis Potosi to pledge his allegiance to Cardenas.

The Senate received reports that disorders were feared in the state of Tabasco.

Army officers estimate 60 Cedilloistas have been killed in scattered San Luis Potosi engagements. One government soldier was killed and three wounded.

Genesee Scholarships.
Rochester, N. Y., May 23 (AP).—Nineteen high school pupils from three states have been awarded Genesee scholarships to the University of Rochester, Lester O. Wilder, director of admissions, said today. Each award carries $300 a year for three years provided the student maintains a high academic average and general performance satisfactory to the university. Winners include: David Michaels, Croton-on-Hudson.

Bomb Kills Carrier.
Rotterdam, the Netherlands, May 23 (AP).—A bomb carried by a bag by a man on a main street exploded today, killing the carrier and wounding two passersby. Police believed the bomb was intended for Helms Tien, German, who recently was imprisoned in Germany for espionage, but later was released and came back here. He was near the scene at the time of the explosion but was not hurt.

Well Known for Many Varied Interests in Kingston

Mrs. Francis J. Higginson, widow of Rear Admiral Higginson, died Saturday at her home at Cold Spring. She was 85 years old, the daughter of the late John Haldane and the late Matilda Haldane.

On her paternal side Mrs. Higginson was a descendant of a family that was one of the founders of Cold Spring. Her great-grandfather, Henry Haldane, came here during the Revolution as an officer in the king's army. Since the days of the revolution the Haldane family has been prominently identified with the social, religious, educational and charitable circles of the Hudson Valley. They built and endowed the Haldane High School, which served the educational needs of Cold Spring until centralization of several districts necessitated the creation of a larger school a year ago. Her father, John Haldane, was an armament manufacturer and supplied guns for the United States government over 50 years ago. It was in connection with his inspection visits to the Haldane country that Mrs. Higginson met her late husband.

Mrs. Higginson traveled extensively to meet her husband at foreign ports while he was on active duty and both Admiral and Mrs. Higginson were entertained by many foreign dignitaries.

While she maintained her residence at Cold Spring, Mrs. Higginson spent the winter months in this city, living at The Huntington. Civic and charitable activities of Kingston and Ulster county were among her deepest interests. She was a member of the original Board of Trustees of the Home for the Aged, during the Ulster County Apple Blossom Festival, Mrs. Higginson assisted in welcoming visitors to the colonial home of Mrs. Clara Norton Reed, which was opened for public inspection.

Mrs. Higginson was a member of the National Society of Colonial Dames, Daughters of the American Revolution, the Huguenot Society, a charter member of the Ulster Garden Club, a member of the Garden Club of America, the Colony Club of New York and the State Charities Aid Society. She was also a trustee of the Kingston Y. W. C. A. and a member of the First Reformed Dutch Church.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the late residence in Cold Spring, the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool, pastor of the First Reformed Dutch Church here, conducting the services. The burial services will be held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D. C. A. Carr and Son will be in charge of arrangements at Cold Spring and in Washington.

Czech Situation Eases as Sudetens Gain in Elections

Gains Made in Town Offices as Czechoslovakia Masses 500,000 Soldiers Along German Frontier

Praha, Czechoslovakia, May 23 (AP).—The passing of a peaceful election day momentarily has eased little Czechoslovakia's fear of war, but there remains to be settled the question of how and by whom her 3,500,000 German minority population shall be governed.

The situation after yesterday's municipal elections appeared in this light:

Czechoslovakia kept 500,000 Czech soldiers along the 1,300-mile frontier facing Germany, and believed that force sufficient to deter any incursion by Germany's Fuehrer Hitler, self-proclaimed protector of Germans everywhere. The Czechs fear he one day may try to make of Czechoslovakia another Austria, now joined to Germany.

The Sudeten, Nazi, German party increased its strength in the German communities where voting was held yesterday, but only municipal governing bodies were affected so that it appeared there would be no direct national effect therefrom.

Konrad Henlein, the Sudeten Nazi leader, refused again to negotiate with the government on his sweeping demands for autonomy for the Sudeten Germans, "under the existing unconstitutional situation"—the presence of troops in Sudeten areas during the elections.

Hope in Talks
The Czech republic placed her hopes for permanent settlement of her troubles upon diplomatic negotiations in Berlin, London and Paris—Britain and France were endeavoring to prevail upon all concerned to work out a compromise to assure Europe's peace.

The continued presence of troops at border points, with always the chance of an incident that could set off trouble, and two more municipal election days to come—one next Sunday and one June 12 to complete voting in all regions—were factors of danger.

Among the 1,500 communities which voted yesterday, 48 were predominantly German and four (Continued on Page Two)

Divine Follower Is Fined $20; Charge Inadequate Brakes

Peaceful Magdalene, of the Divine Farm at Saugerties, was arrested Saturday morning by Merrill M. Peck of Washington avenue, following a collision between their cars at Fair and Main streets.

The charge was reckless driving. To that charge the woman pleaded not guilty and later in the day when the hearing came up she was discharged on that charge, but was fined $20 on a charge of driving a car equipped with inadequate brakes. The fine was paid Saturday evening.

John Manning of Highland, arrested for public intoxication Sunday night on Broadway, was fined $3.

Daniel Collins of Hoboken, panhandling on East Pierpont street, was given an hour to get out of town.

Michael Marsosky of Syracuse, accused of panhandling on Pine Grove avenue, was given an hour to leave the city.

Jos. Moran Guest at New York Dinner Given in His Honor

Former Eddyville Boy Who Devoted Life to Metropolitan Police Work Lauded—Keresman Is Speaker

Joseph P. Moran, the Eddyville boy who devoted his life to police work 25 years ago in New York city, was feted in the Hotel Commodore, Saturday night, at a testimonial dinner that drew more than 500 patrolmen and friends from all over the Empire state and New Jersey.

The dinner was to commemorate the retirement from active service of the past president of the Patrolmen's Association, one who was instrumental for turning police work from "just a job into a profession" as Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine and several other speakers put it.

Those on Dais
Those who sat on the dais and lauded Patrolman Moran on their turn as they were presented by Joseph J. Burdard, toastmaster, were Michael J. Deleahanty, Col. Morris Joseph, Peter Keresman, Thomas J. Cummings, Commissioner Valentine, Judge Alva W. Huganue and Joseph J. Earle.

Telegrams of congratulation were received from President F. D. Roosevelt and Governor Herbert H. Lehman. They expressed regret at not being able to attend the dinner.

Valentine's Praise
Referring to the record of Patrolman Moran, Commissioner Valentine said, "The Patrolmen's Benevolent Association is responsible for that great change—turning the job of a policeman into a profession." Then he related the history of working conditions, comparing the present favorable police schedules with those of bygone years when officers were given little consideration and less justice.

"The I. B. A. accomplished these things," said the commissioner, "with Joe Moran as the spokesman, always the gentleman, a man who, if he felt his cause was just, pursued it to the end."

"I am glad to be here to pay tribute to one who has always been a model policeman, one whose retirement I regret more than any man in the department."

At this point, Commissioner Valentine deviated from his serious vein to remark, "I was surprised (Continued on Page Two)

U. S. Supreme Court in 6-2 Decision Permits Admission Tax on Intercollegiate Games

Income Tax Court Decides Income Tax May Be Levied on Port Authority Employees

Washington, May 23 (AP).—The supreme court broadened the field of federal taxation today by holding that the federal government can impose levies on athletic contests at state universities and on the salaries of employees of the New York Port Authority.

Justice Roberts delivered the 6 to 2 decision sustaining a federal admission tax on tickets to intercollegiate football games at the University of Georgia and Georgia Tech.

Justice Stone delivered another 6 to 2 opinion holding that the federal government could collect an income tax on port authority employees. The authority was formed by an interstate compact to operate tunnels and bridges between New York and New Jersey.

The port authority litigation had caused 25 states to file a brief with the court asking protection from "federal usurpation" and "the burden of federal taxation."

"Expressing no opinion whether a federal tax may be imposed upon the port authority itself with respect to its receipt of income or its other activities," Stone said, "we decide only that the present tax neither precludes nor threatens unreasonably to obstruct any function essential to the continued existence of the state government."

"The immunity, if allowed, would impose to an admissible extent a restriction upon the taxing power which the constitution has granted to the federal government."

In the admission-tax decision, Roberts held that immunity from federal taxation does not extend to business enterprises conducted by the states for gain.

Justices Butler and McReynolds dissented. Justice Cardozo did not participate. The decision had the effect of broadening somewhat the field of federal taxation.

It applied specifically to the government's attempt to impose an admission tax on intercollegiate football games at the University of Georgia and Georgia Tech.

Canoe Hidden Behind Hedge.
Lewiston, N. Y., May 23 (AP).—A New York-to-Nome canoe trip almost ended here yesterday when the 18-foot craft disappeared. When Mark Richelson and Robert Fuller, the canoeists, found the craft missing they notified state police. Sunday school children on their way to church found the canoe hidden by pranksters. Richelson said the trip would be resumed within a few days.

Gains in Construction Industry.
Albany, N. Y., May 23 (AP).—Employment and payrolls in New York state construction industry have shown a appreciable gains during the last 30-day period, the state labor department reported today. Industrial Commissioner Elmer F. Andrews said the gains—12.3 per cent in payrolls and 12.5 per cent in employment—covered the period from mid-March to mid-April.

Ivan, Tex., May 23 (AP).—Tornadoes twisting through west-central Texas and southern Oklahoma left four persons dead and 14 injured today. At Leon, Tex., a man, and a woman, who, if he felt his cause was just, pursued it to the end.

Rubioff in Hospital.
Battle Creek, Mich., May 23 (AP).—David Rubioff, violinist, was reported slightly improved today at the Battle Creek Sanitarium, where he underwent two emergency operations within slightly more than two weeks. Rubioff underwent an appendectomy May 6. His convalescence was interrupted last week by the formation of an abscess and another operation was performed yesterday. He was given a blood transfusion after the operation.

Twins Got Disorderly.
Oscar and Arthur Countryman, of Accord, twin brothers aged 27 years, were arrested at Marlborough Sunday night by Deputy Sheriff McCullough, on charges of disorderly conduct. They were arraigned before Justice John Watzka of East Kingston, imposed fines of $5 each, or five days in the county jail.

Japanese Consolidate Gains

With the Japanese army in Central China, May 23 (AP).—The Japanese field command said today that 10,000 demoralized Chinese soldiers have surrendered since the fall of Suchow.

The number of prisoners mounted rapidly as Japanese forces pursued a routed Chinese army from the conquered central China railroad zone.

The Japanese said they had narrowed the Suchow trap down to an area roughly 12 miles in diameter, centering on the Lushan hills midway between Su-chow and Suhsien.

Czech Situation Eases Today

of these in western Czechoslovakia were classed as cities. In the cities alone, the Sudeten Germans increased their municipal council seats from 63 to 105; in the same cities, Communists dropped from 14 to five. The United German Democratic party, non-Nazi, dropped from 28 to 18.

The Czech National Socialist party, slightly to the left of center and comparable to the French Radical Socialist party, made gains of 15 to 20 per cent. In Praha, this party polled 142,000 votes as compared with 107,000 in 1931, and emerged the strongest party. Communists there were next with 89,000 votes.

On the whole it appeared from not fully complete returns that the Sudetens gained in Germanic towns, whereas the predominantly Czech communities swung toward the moderate left.

Easing of Tension
Fully aware of the dangers of the situation, provoked by the fatal shooting of two Sudeten Germans along the border on Friday, Czechoslovak government spokesmen felt that generally there was an easing of tension.

"This emergency will pass off peacefully," one official said.

Nevertheless, the cabinet's political committee met at length yesterday to discuss national defense, and Premier Milan Hodza met with three Sudeten German members of Parliament in an effort to create a more favorable atmosphere for forthcoming negotiations over the proposed nationalists' statute, which the government hopes will satisfy minority demands.

Kingstonians at dinner were Mrs. Peter Keresman, Mrs. Mary Keresman, his mother, and his sister, Miss Mary Keresman. Seated at the same table was the Rev. Francis P. Borowski, former pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, here, and now of St. Valentine's in the Bronx.

Representing the Kingston B. A. were these officers of the local department: William T. Roedel, newly elected president; Sergeant Ray Van Buren, William Reardon, Wesley Cramer, Claude Haines, George Bowers, Alderman Eugene Cornwell, former Mayor E. J. Dempsey and Bernard Chester sat at the table with the patrolmen.

With 70,000 reserves, with an army of 190,000, an eighth technical troops there was an estimated total of nearly 500,000 men under arms. Many tanks and other heavy motorized equipment rolled toward the border yesterday.

If German troops should cross the frontier, persons close to the government said, the Czechoslovak would attempt to fight on the issue on territory where the minority Germans are concentrated.

prised to learn he is 63. He doesn't look it. Does he? Speaking of the honored guest as a diplomat, the New York Police head praised his methods of making "requests, not demands" and credited his approach as the reason why he is so popular with legislators around the state capital, who are ready for an audience with "Joe Moran, who requests that something be done for the boys."

Peter Keresman Speaks
Patrolman Peter Keresman of Kingston, secretary of the New York State Patrolmen's Benevolent Association, who has been close to Moran for a number of years, lauded him as "New York State's No. 1 Policeman, a man highly esteemed for his gentility, forthrightness and talents for organizing."

The constitution written by Moran and his associates has been copied by police organizations in several states. "It has stood the test," said Judge Burdette, who praised Moran for its framing.

In closing the Judge remarked, "I hope Joe Moran will be spared for years to act as a guide to the P. B. A."

All of the speakers, in praising the guest of honor, included Mrs. Moran, who with a busy husband, traveling here and there and being away from home on police matters put her to many inconveniences that would have strained the disposition of one less good natured. She sat beside her husband on the dais.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

creeping rally lifted stock market leaders' small fractions today, but many issues were unable to get going on the come-back.

Selected steels, motors, copers, utilities and specialties were favored. Slowness of dealings was a handicapping feature, transfers being at the rate of about 400,000 shares. Numerous stocks were unchanged near the final hour.

Posting modest advances at one time were Republic Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Public Service of N. J., Kennecott, Corro, Pasco, Sears, Roebuck, Woolworth. In international harvesters, Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., du Pont, Santa Fe and Air Reduction.

Lacking rising vitality were N. Y. Central, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, National Biscuit, Western Union, Anaconda and Montgomery Ward.

Stocks Were Down Again Last Week

With turnover limited to 290,000 shares Saturday, heaviness that has marked stocks during the week continued, with Industrials showing a loss for the day of 1.74 points, to 113.25 in the Dow-Jones averages; rails lost 0.17, down to 21.73; utilities were down 0.11 point, to 19.04. For the week as a whole there were substantial net losses. Industrial stock averages showed a net loss of 2.96 points for the week and rails dropped still further, with net loss of 1.23 points. Commodities as a whole were weak.

Industry and trade continued about at the level which has been maintained for several weeks past and which leads many to believe that the present depression has about reached bottom. On the theory that this is true, any movement should be ahead. It seems to be conceded that the proposed huge spending and lending plan cannot help but stimulate activity, in some lines at least.

The only question is whether or not the money poured out, with the accompanying increase in the already mountainous public debt, may cause loss of confidence in the government's credit; and frighten more private capital from productive channels than the government can add by its spending program. In a statement signed by members of the Economists' National Committee on Monetary Affairs, the government's pumping program is attacked as an unsound public policy in that "it neither reaches the roots of our present economic difficulties nor stimulate a sound or sustained business recovery."

Warner Bros. Pictures net for the quarter ended February 28 was $1,139,019, or 28 cents a share, vs. $1,992,453, or 51 cents a share.

Reports of Symington-Gould and subsidiaries for quarter ended April 30, subject to adjustment, show net loss of $246,070. Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Co. will spend about $12,000,000 on new building, equipment and repairs this year, approximately same as was spent in 1932.

Department of Commerce reports show that factory sales of automobiles manufactured in the U. S. totaled 219,314 in April compared with 536,150 in April last year.

Plymouth Oil Co. reports consolidated net profit of $954,230 for four months ended April 30, equal to 94 cents a share, compared with $869,946, or 83 cents a share in the same period in 1932.

To Open Local Dental Offices

Dr. Clarke is the son of the late Dr. George H. Clarke, who, until his death, was a prominent dentist with offices on Downs street. He received his primary and secondary education in Public School No. 6, and Kingston High School. In high school he was a popular member of the class of 1931, and was an outstanding athlete playing basketball, baseball and football. From high school he went to Tufts College where he received his pre-dental work and was a member of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity. In 1937 he entered the Tufts College Dental School and was a member of the Delta Sigma Delta fraternity. He was graduated in 1937.

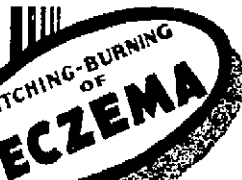

For the past year Dr. Clarke has served as a dental interne at the Pilgrim State Hospital in Brentwood, L. I., acquiring wide experience in the fields of oral surgery and oral medicine. The Pilgrim State Hospital is the largest hospital in New York state, caring for over 8,000 patients.

Dr. Clarke is the third member of his family to enter the dental profession. He and his brother, Dr. Robert S. Clarke, a practicing dentist in Newport, R. I., followed in the footsteps of their father, Dr. George H. Clarke, who for many years prior to his death in 1927, served a large practice in this city.

OLD HOTEL RECALLS DENVER'S BIG BOOM

Register Carried Names of Great of World.

Denver.—History has been sanded off the original maple and walnut ballroom floor of the famous Windsor hotel here, more than half a century since it was laid. Records held by the Colorado Historical society reveal that the floor originally cost $50,000.

Workmen cleaning the old ballroom discovered the floor on which danced virtually every famous man and woman of the time. The ballroom for years had been used as a storeroom. On tearing up the rough pine covering, they discovered the discolored maple and German walnut flooring.

The Windsor, built in 1880 when gold and silver were magnets that drew thousands to the Rocky mountains, today stands among pawnshops, flophouses and cheap restaurants.

At the close of the Nineteenth century it was considered the "class" hostelry between Kansas City and San Francisco. During that period of inflated prices, its rooms were rented at fabulous prices.

U. S. Grant Signed Register.
Presidents Ulysses S. Grant, Grover Cleveland, William Howard Taft and Theodore Roosevelt all signed the Windsor's register. Oscar Wilde, Rudyard Kipling, Mark Twain, Robert W. Service, Robert Louis Stevenson and Eugene Field were numbered among its guests.

It was the setting of the lusty love story of the Vermont stonecutter, H. A. W. Tabor, and his wife, the beautiful actress, "Baby Doe" McCourt of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Tabor, after he "struck it rich," established the holding company which controlled the famous hostelry. It was there that he spent his honeymoon after he divorced his first wife and married "Baby Doe."

Tabor also pioneered modern plumbing by importing one of the first bathtubs brought to the Rocky mountain area for use in his suite in the Windsor. The line of chambermaids, bellhops and hotel authorities carrying heated water from the kitchen to that most wonderful of devices was an awe-inspiring ritual, old timers recall.

Tammen as Bartender.
Behind the Windsor's mahogany bar, then studded with 3,000 silver dollars, Harry Tammen advertised himself as "the world's best bartender" before he joined with Fred G. Bonolis to found the Denver Post. Tammen had occasion to serve members of the Colorado legislature when they met in a nearby room before the Colorado state capital was built.

The Windsor was built by an English land company and its lines were suggested by the British royal family's historic Windsor castle from which it received its name.

Furniture similar in design to that of the English castle was imported at a cost said to be $1,000,000. Rooms were heated by fireplaces, constructed of Colorado granite—each had what at the time was a daring experiment, a coal grate.

From the niche-like balcony at the corner of the hotel's presidential suite—occupied by the wealthy Mr. and Mrs. Tabor when there were no Presidents in town—Theodore Roosevelt made one of his fire and brimstone campaign speeches. Bleachers set up in the streets in front of the hotel sold for $20 a seat, records show.

Paperhangers, in refurbishing the room the temperamental Oscar Wilde was supposed to have occupied during his 12 weeks' stay in Denver, found many layers of pastel colored wallpaper, one on top of the other. This substantiated the legend that Wilde insisted on changing his wallpaper almost weekly to meet his varying moods.

World Farming Entering an Era of Mechanization

Washington.—American farms have become the most mechanized in the world, according to S. H. McCrory, chief of the Department of Agriculture bureau of agricultural engineering.

It was only 100 years ago that the steel plow and the grain harvester were invented. Gasoline tractors came into general use less than 25 years ago. Electric power on farms is much newer.

"Today there are more than 1,250,000 farm tractors in use and electric power is available on 1,000,000 farms," McCrory said. "Huge combines that harvest 100 acres of wheat a day are common in the great plains."

"There are 85,000,000 acres of the best agricultural land in organized drainage districts and 10,000,000 acres under irrigation in the West. Millions of acres more soon will be irrigated from huge dams now being built."

There is a strong tendency, McCrory said, for engineering improvements to aid the family-size farm. Among recent developments are the handy general-purpose tractors and the "baby" combine grain harvester adapted to small fields.

Despite the increase in the number of machines, McCrory said, the quantity of metal used in farm implements is about the same as in 1917.

He Helps Folks to Spell His Name Right

Seattle.—Harry Kirwin, commercial photographer, tired of having his name misspelled, he changed it to Kirwin Zyzzo. "Everyone spells my name a different way," he explained. "All they have to do now is look for the last name in the telephone directory."

MEXICO: A HARD PROBLEM IN 4 EASY STEPS

1. THIS IS THE NATIVE, the man behind the 20-year revolution in Mexico. Whether farm or industrial worker, he is one of the great Mexican majority (15,000,000 out of 19,000,000) of pure Indian or mixed Indian and Spanish blood. Poor, ignorant, he has found one of his chief troubles to be the fact that for centuries most of Mexico's land has been held in vast estates owned by the wealthy upper crust. The revolution's biggest problem has been to raise his economic standard.

2. THIS IS CARDENAS, president of Mexico, an Indian himself and friend of the Indians. In the three years after he came into power late in 1934, he took 30,000,000 acres of land from the estates and distributed them to peasants. That was more acreage than all his predecessors had distributed since the agrarian program was started in 1915. Humble born, army trained, Mexico's strong man has grouped around him men who are "Cardenistas," no matter what their economic theories.

3. THIS IS CEDILLO, "strong man of San Luis Potosi" and an Indian who might possibly upset Cardenas's appellation. Long a friend of the president and his secretary of agriculture, Cedillo resigned last year, and radical orators called him "son of the rightist movement." Yet he, too, had stood for land division and approved distribution of part of his own state. Should he become standard-bearer for the Mexican conservatives, he could lead a private army of 18,000 cavalrymen-farmers.

4. THESE DISPOSSED OILMEN are leaving their office after being dispossessed by the government. It was expropriation of 17 British and American oil companies valued at $400,000,000 that put Mexico in her present spot. "Mexico for Mexicans" is the revolution's slogan, but in carrying it out, Cardenas has stirred up opposition not only abroad but also at home. His big problem, now that Mexico has lost private oil revenue, is to find enough money to run the government.

Donation Day for Kingston Parks Here on Thursday

In talking of Donation Day to be held Thursday, Mayor C. J. Heiselman said that the park committee of the city was very anxious to receive donations of trees, plants of all kinds, and shrubbery which will be planted in the city parks.

Hulton Park, which is being newly developed, can use a large number of rock plants as there is an ideal site in the park for a rock garden. It is also planned, if possible to have a Lilac Drive in one of the parks, and those who have lilac bushes or clippings they will give the city are urged to bring them to the Municipal Auditorium on Broadway on Thursday.

If residents are unable to take their contributions to the auditorium that day, they should call the Board of Public Works and they will be called for.

Trees are also sought which will be planted in the parks. Mayor Heiselman said that the idea of Donation Day was to give every resident an opportunity to participate in developing the parks as beauty spots in the city.

Count Borolaski, a 33-inch Polish dwarf, was a friend of George III and one of the most accomplished men in London society.

Another Circus Coming to City

The second circus of the season to play Kingston is that of Tom Mix, which has played here before. The circus will show on Thursday afternoon and evening, June 2, at the athletic field.

Since the city has acquired title to the Kingston Fair Grounds where the municipal stadium is under erection the only available site for a circus in the city is the athletic field.

The site of Solomon's Temple, destroyed by the Romans in 70 A. D., has been occupied for many years by the Mosque of Omar.

This evening at 8 o'clock at Temple Emanuel under the auspices of the Men's Club and the Jewish Youth Alliance Prof. Harry Overstreet, professor of philosophy at the College of the City of New York, will be the speaker. Dr. Overstreet will take as his topic, "The Art of Being Good." The affair, previously postponed until this evening because of the inability of Prof. Overstreet to come to Kingston, will be open to members of the congregation and the public.

Three Out of Four Hurt, 1 Seriously As Car Overturns

A coupe containing four persons in the front seat, driven toward Kingston by William Benn, of West Camp, left the highway about a mile south of the Saugerties village line early yesterday morning, struck a telephone pole and overturned.

Benn, owner and operator of the car, reported no injuries, but his three companions were taken to the Kingston Hospital for treatment, one of them being seriously injured. They were Harry Garrison, of 25 Jane street, Saugerties, fracture of the spine; William Overbaugh, Malden, broken jaw; George Flicker, Malden, broken nose.

Benn was arrested by Sergeant Cunningham and Trooper Keefe, who investigated the accident and on arraignment before Justice Charles H. Bennett, of Saugerties, was fined $5 for driving with four persons in the front seat.

The accident happened about 12:45 Sunday morning when the coupe failed to make the turn on 9-W near the Vosdik property, left the highway and after grazing a large elm tree on the Vosdik lawn struck a Central Hudson guy pole and overturned about 75 yards from the point where it left the road.

Drs. L. A. Sonking and Hugh Childrester, of Saugerties, treated the injured men for cuts and bruises before they were taken to the hospital. At the hospital this noon Garrison's condition was reported to be fair and showing a slight improvement over yesterday.

Jones, who had supported the defeated CIO slate, thereafter announced he would support the party nominees. Farley had joined Jones and Lewis in backing Thomas Kennedy, who lost the gubernatorial nomination in Pennsylvania. On the other hand, he had supported Gov. George H. Earle for the Senate against the CIO candidate.

In the Oregon contest, however, Farley made it plain before the balloting that he was not taking sides. Friends said afterward he had been surprised by the defeat of Governor Martin, whom Secretary Ickes had described as being "at heart no New Dealer."

Hess Wins in Oregon.

Portland, Ore., May 23 (AP)—The Democratic party in Oregon faced the task today of reuniting its ranks behind its gubernatorial nominee, Henry Hess, who made a home-stretch victory in Friday's primary. Hess stretched his lead over Gov. Charles H. Martin, nearly 7,000, polling 59,109 votes in 1,669 of the state's 1,681 precincts to 52,316 for Martin. Charles A. Sprague, Salem publisher, easily won the Republican nomination. Both Hess and Sprague were relative strangers to state-wide politics prior to the primary.

Closis Will Play Caseys in City League Contest Tonight

The City Baseball League gets an early start this week on its four-game schedule, starting tonight with the Closi A. C. and Knights of Columbus duel at 6 o'clock.

Monday has been an off-night in the league, but this week the schedule has four games instead of three on account of a recent revision to take care of a postponed match. Friday there will be no game on account of the high school contest in the afternoon, but the state won't be cut, the managers having voted to move up to Thursday.

Hurons Bow to Closis Sunday In Opener at Stone Ridge, 3-2

Gus Steigerwald smiled broadly today as he rattled along in his new truck. And the reason was because his team, the Closi A. C., defeated the Huron Indians Sunday, 3-2.

In winning the Kingston night, backed by Angelo Closi, spoiled the debut of the Redskins on their home diamond, but Manager Fred Baumgarten says he'll make up for that later on when he gets the Closis out again.

Despite the setback, the game had plenty of thrills for the Huron fans, especially as they watched Charlie Neff in his relief role, setting the visitors down in hitless and runless style after his first inning.

Dave Rask started on the mound for the Hurons and while he was tossing 'em over, the batsmen of Gus Steigerwald's clan went to work and collected three runs.

After Neff assumed the flinging duties in the second, the visiting swatters fanned at the air, 15 of them swinging for three and out.

Bud Swarthout held the Indians in six scattered hits, doing nicely on the Closi hill.

14 Drivers Get Race Positions

Indianapolis, May 22 (AP)—Fourteen drivers with heavy feet and light hearts, including two speedway record breakers, had their positions today in the starting lineup for the 500-mile Memorial Day Indianapolis motor speedway race.

Nineteen others can win starting spots. "Sitting on the pole" in the first row when the race starts will be Floyd Roberts, 38-year-old veteran from Van Nuys, Cal., who qualified at 125.681 miles.

Oswining School Wins Princeton, N. J., May 23 (AP)—Scarborough School of Oswining, N. Y., won team honors yesterday with 15 points and its star, Bill Gillespie, walked off with the individual championship in the Princeton interscholastic tennis tournament. Gillespie defeated Bill Unstader of Millburn High School, 6-4, 6-3, in the final.

"Safety of Midgets"

"This demonstrates the safety of midget racing," he said after his visit to the doctor. "If our cars had been standard, one of us would have been a lot colder than I was. As I remember, I had just enough speed to run into the broken fence rail. The lumber hit my front wheels, slid up the radiator and hit me a glancing blow as it came over the cowl."

"Will you be back on Sunday?" he was asked.

"Listen, brother!" he said laughing. "I could be back tomorrow. All I need is a new axle."

John Peters' "Saxon Special", the car Jackson was driving, was damaged on the engine pan.

The gasoline to be used in the race on Sunday will be furnished by the Amos Post Estate, of Catskill, according to West.

Among the visitors to the Woodstock oval on Sunday was Ben Rhymer of this city, who is remembered by everybody in his own right as an outboard motor boat racer. Accompanied by Mrs. Rhymer he enjoyed the tune-ups and said he'd do all he could to spread the gospel that midget auto racing—next to outboarding—is "something."

Wets also told this reporter that the Legion Speedway had been recognized by the "National Auto Racing News" as one of the most promising midwest enterprises in the east. The issue of May 19 carried a long story about Woodstock and the May 29 race.

Princeton Men Win

Princeton, N. J., May 23 (AP)—The strong men of Princeton who go in for Dinghy racing defeated the girls of Sarah Lawrence, Bronxville, N. Y., 161 to 124, in a two-day regatta on Lake Carnegie over the week-end.

Even though the federal government is to make a "thorough investigation" of his administration as to the alleged violation of free speech, Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, N. J., finds time to relax and enjoy a baseball game between Jersey City and the Newark Bears at Newark. He is seen shouting a noisy protest against a decision which did not favor his home town team. Nevertheless, Newark won the game, 8-3.

Tiano Hurls Kingston High To Win Over Middies, 14-4

Another comedy of errors featured the Kingston High School baseball game at the Athletic Field Saturday when Cliff Miller's wonders won from the hapless Middletown representatives by the overwhelming total of 14 to 4. Hank Tiano, freshman hurler of the locals, pitched throughout and gave up seven blows while Dick Perry and Al Ackerson were touched for 10. The only bright spot of the game was Ray Schneider's round tripper.

It was anything but a ball tosser from the start when the Maroon tossers opened the game, after Tiano retired the Middies in one-two-three order in the initial frame. Kingston slugged in four runs in the opener when Coley scored a scorching double to left field and came home on Stoll's single. Al Decker hopped Perry for a long triple pushing Stoll while Decker romped in on Schneider's long fly which was muffed by Outfielder Miller. Ray scored a moment later when the Middies infield fell apart and committed a brace of errors.

The Middies produced a tally in the second when Paddock tripled and rode home on Bob Decker's hit to Schneider. Three more markers came in the second for the Maroons on three hits and as many runs.

After Coley was crashed in the fourth on an infield bouncer, Jack Halstein pumped a huge line into left but Ashdown, hitless for the day, skied to center. Stoll came through in the clutch by delivering a hit to right sending Jack to second. Decker rolled an easy rounder to Maxwell who allowed the ball to bound through his legs and Halstein dented home. Ray Schneider, on the third ball pitched, slammed a terrific smash into deep center scoring Stoll and Decker ahead of him.

Middletown made its last push in the sixth when Perry walked and went to second on Clemmer's single to left. Cooper looped a two-ply blow into center accounting for both Perry and Clemmer while Paddock's single sent in Cooper.

Ray Lindhurst, substituting for Stoll, opened the sixth for the locals with a single and went to the keystone station as Decker reached first on Cooper's miff. On a squeeze play, Lindhurst scored while Sleight went to first on his infield bouncer to third. Celuch walked filling the bases. McLane sacrificed in Decker. Tiano's hunt pushed in Sleight for the locals' final run of the game.

Except for the sixth inning lapse, Hank Tiano had the Middies baffled without throwing one curve ball once. The East Kingston lad fanned seven and gave up only seven blows. It was the locals' fifth straight of the season.

Broadway: "Crime School" The slum sections of America's great cities where boys develop their training to be the vicious criminals of tomorrow is probed with a searching eye by Warner Brothers in this gripping story of a group of young boys who get their criminal training in the slums and who know no law but the law of gangland. The film also portrays the life that goes on in the nation's reformatories and suggests that these places are but steps up the ladder of criminal development. Much of the play's vitality is due to the acting genius of the famous "Dead End Kids" and Humphrey Bogart is also featured in a large cast of lesser players. Here is a timely problem picture that is both entertaining and valuable from the reformist viewpoint.

Kingsport: "College Swing" Another collegiate song and dance comedy appears on the Kingston screen wherein the audience gets a motion picture idea of the way a college might be run. It's a gay, rollicking and comical story of the activities of George Burns and Gracie Allen and these two comedians really go to town with the best parts they have enjoyed in some time. Others in the big cast include Jackie Coogan, Betty Grable, Edward Everett Horton, Martha Raye, Ben Blue and Bob Hope. Those who like swing tunes and a general air of youthful exuberance will enjoy this production by Paramount.

Orpheum—"I Met My Love Again" A tragic love story of a boy and girl in love who break up, go their separate ways and meet again years later in the crux of the plot in "I Met My Love Again" starring Henry Fonda and John Bennett. "Port of Missing Girls" is the associate feature with an all star cast.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same. Kingsport: "The Safety Girls" and "Battle of Broadway." A British made film and a 20th Century-Fox comedy number are the double features at the Kingston with Patricia Ellis and Jack Hulbert. Featured in the musical comedy and with Victor McLaglen, starred and Brian Donlevy featured in the other production, a story based on the excitement that happens in New York city when the American Legionnaires come conventioning.

Orpheum: Same.

Student "Mayor" Student "Mayor" James Abernethy and his cabinet will take over the government of the city on Student Government Day on Wednesday, while the induction ceremonies will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the council chambers at the city hall. These ceremonies are very interesting and the public is invited to attend. At this time the "mayor" will be introduced and deliver his annual message to the council when it organizes. Following the induction services the "mayor" and other "city officials" will take over the government of the city on Wednesday. The procedure will be similar to that followed last year.

"Old Ironsides," most famous of the frigates in the War of 1812, was built in the Boston navy yard in 1797.

Faces Deportation

The official German news agency in Berlin reported that Dr. Ignatz T. Griehl was in custody in Bremerhaven where he was seized attempting to land without a passport.

Veteran Retires

Jefferson City, Mo.—George E. Root, 75, hopped freight trains many years to speed his arrival at work from his home outside the city limits. Recently his train "went through the depot like one of them bats you hear about. I thought 'George you better get off.'"

He did and rolled in the cinders the first time in 50 years. Nursing a bruised knee and leg he swore, "I'm through hopping freights. Getting old, I guess."
